In recent years, the Psychology Unit has experienced cuts resulting in a decrease in the number of psychology course sections offered, even though the Psychology Unit has averaged over 100% fill rates during several of these semesters. Total enrollment during the fall semester has averaged 1,085 during the current and previous 4 years, for an average fill rate of over 100%. We would like to request that additional psychology sections be added.