

Acceptable Sources of Information
Source	Political Slant	Location
Conservative Publications (good sources for conservative perspectives on each issue)
The National Review	conservative	Ebsco
Human Events	conservative	Ebsco
American Spectator	conservative	Ebsco
Progressive Publications (Good sources for progressive perspectives on each issue)
Mother Jones	progressive	Ebsco
The Nation	progressive	Ebsco
The Village Voice	progressive	Proquest Alt Press Watch
The Progressive	progressive	Ebsco
Newspapers and News magazines (Good sources for more objective informational pieces about each issue, though these publications are often thought to have biases)
Time	center-left	Ebsco , in library
Newsweek	center	Ebsco , in library
U.S. News and World Report	center-right	Ebsco , in library
The New York Times	center-left	LexisNexis , in library
The Wall Street Journal	center-right	Paper, last month, in Library
The Christian Science Monitor	center-right	Ebsco
Progressive Think Tanks (more good sources for progressive perspectives on each issue)
Center for Law and Social Policy (www.clasp.org)	progressive	Internet
Progressive Policy Institute (www.ppionline.org)	progressive	Internet
Center for American Progress (www.americanprogress.org)	progressive	Internet
Conservative Think Tanks (more good sources for conservative perspectives on each issue)
The Heritage Foundation (www.heritage.org)	conservative	Internet
The Hoover Institution (www.hoover.org)	conservative	Internet
A Libertarian Think Tank (a good source of opinions that are not clearly left or right)
The Cato Institute (www.cato.org)	Libertarian	Internet
Websites of the parties, the presidential candidates, and other politicians
The Democratic Party (www.democrats.org)	Center-left	Internet
Barack Obama (www.barackobama.com)	Center-left	Internet
The Republican Party (www.rnc.org)	Center-right	Internet
John McCain (www.johnmccain.com)	Center-right	Internet
The Libertarian Party (http://www.lp.org)	Libertarian	Internet
Bob Barr (Libertarian Candidate) (www.bobbarr2008.com)	Libertarian	Internet
Green Party (www.gp.org)	Left	Internet
Cynthia McKinney (Green Party Candidate) (http://votetruth08.com/)	Left	Internet
Pete Stark (represents Hayward in the House of Representatives) (http://www.house.gov/stark/)	Left	Internet
Barbara Lee (represents Oakland, Berkeley, and much of the East Bay in the House of Representatives) (http://lee.house.gov/)	Left	Internet
Barbara Boxer (Senator from California) (http://boxer.senate.gov/)	Center-left	Internet

Nancy Pelosi (Speaker of the House, represents San Francisco in the House of Representatives) (http://www.house.gov/pelosi/)	Center-left	Internet
Saxby Chambliss (Senator from Georgia) (http://chambliss.senate.gov/)	Right	Internet
Duncan Hunter (represents parts of San Diego County in the House of Representatives) (http://www.house.gov/hunter/)	Right	Internet
Pete Sessions (represents Dallas, Texas, in the House of Representatives) (http://www.house.gov/sessions/)	Right	Internet
Phil Gingrey (represents the 11 th District of Georgia in the House of Representatives) (http://gingrey.house.gov/)	Right	Internet
Ron Paul (represents the 14 th district of Texas in the House of Representatives, former presidential candidate) (www.house.gov/paul/)	Libertarian-right	Internet
Hillary Rodham Clinton (Senator from New York, former presidential candidate) (http://clinton.senate.gov/)	Center-left	Internet
Harry Reid (Senator from Nevada, Senate Majority Leader) (http://reid.senate.gov/)	Center-left	Internet
Kay Bailey Hutchinson (Senator from Texas) (http://www.senate.gov/~hutchison/)	Center-right	Internet
Mitch McConnell (Senator from Kentucky, Senate Minority Leader) (http://mccconnell.senate.gov/)	Center-right	Internet
Joe Lieberman (Senator from Connecticut, former vice-presidential nominee of the Democratic Party, currently a supporter of John McCain) (http://lieberman.senate.gov/)	Center (Lieberman is liberal on social issues and conservative on national defense issues)	Internet
Bernie Sanders (Senator from Vermont, the only member of the Senate who is not a member of either major party) (http://sanders.senate.gov/)	Left	Internet

This list has been designed for use in the English 1A classes of Clara McLean and Michael Langdon.

For students outside these classes, additional election 2008 research can be found here.