Subject Headings

CIVIL LIBERTIES

Use: CIVIL RIGHTS

Sometimes instead of searching by keywords, you may have better luck finding materials by consulting the Library of Congress Subject Headings (LCSH). This is important because you can sometimes get better search results. For example, articles, books, and web sites on Civil Liberties will usually be indexed under "Civil Rights." To browse such headings, they are in the five thick red volumes on the reference shelves, on the left side of the reference desk.

See Your Search Strategy for more information on phrasing a search statement.

Pro/Con Books

Search the Library Catalog, entering your subject terms and combine with either "Opposing Viewpoints," "Library in a Book," "Taking Sides" or "Information Plus." The books will contain overviews and often pro and con arguments to subjects within a main topic. With the exception of the Library in a Book series, the books are available for checkout. Example: Mass Media AND Opposing Viewpoints

Web Resources

Use Web search engines (such as Google) last for your research, and if you do, be prepared to evaluate web sites with a very skeptical eye. Anybody can put anything on the web, and if you do not pay attention, you could be linking very questionable or misinformed sites. The Library has an effective web evaluation checklist available at:
