Institutional Research

VISION

Providing the Chabot community with data that makes a difference!

MISSION

The mission of the Office of Institutional Research (OIR) is to produce information that is meaningful and useful to the college as a whole as well as to individual college units (academic, student services, and administrative) for the purposes of inquiry, planning, evaluation, accountability, and compliance. The OIR facilitates the collection, validation, production, analysis, dissemination, and thoughtful use of student, staff, program, and community data.

PHILOSOPHY

Institutional Research plays an integral role in the cycle of planning, assessment and improvement by measuring whether the college and its programs are meeting their goals and addressing the educational needs of our students.

STAFF

The IR Office is staffed by a full-time Faculty Coordinator, a full-time Research Analyst, and student research assistants. We are located in Room 231.

RESEARCH REQUESTS

If you have a research question about Chabot students, staff, programs or the local community that is not answered on this Web site, please email or call us.
