

To fix the problem with Code::Blocks that shows up as the system not being able to find `libgcc_s_dw2.dll` when running a program at the command line (in the DOS CMD shell), make this change to the linker options:

Under Settings menu,

Compiler option,

Linker settings tab,

Other linker options box, add this:

```
-static-libgcc -static-libstdc++
```

You may copy and paste the line to set the linker option.
