Welcome to Chabot!

Welcome to Chabot College! The actor Tom Hanks, who was celebrated by President Obama with a Kennedy Center Award in the Arts, graduated from Chabot College. He recently wrote a guest editorial for the New York Times titled I owe it all to Community College, by which he meant, specifically, Chabot College.

We have 14,000 future Tom Hanks here at Chabot. And every one of you has the unparalleled opportunity to sit in a classroom with other aspiring students and to be taught by college professors who have masters and doctorates from some of America's premier universities, and who are teaching at Chabot because they are intellectually and morally committed to the mission of the community college.

Here at Chabot, you will find classrooms where critical thinking and critical writing and articulation are nurtured. You will read works of great authors and be encouraged to analyze them by expert and deeply committed faculty who encourage your personal development and the achievement of your goals. You will find superb career technical programs that enable you to pursue professional advancements and job training, as well as college transfer pathways that support you in completing a degree through university transfer if that is your dream. Our student support programs are justifiably celebrated statewide for their effectiveness in offering you support to meet your needs as you progress through your studies.

We offer miracles here at Chabot College. It is my honor and pleasure to welcome you to this superb learning community.

Chabot College President

Welcome to Chabot!

Welcome to Chabot College! As the Dean of Special Programs & Services I believe you will discover that Chabot College is the place for you! We are so excited that you have chosen our campus as a partner in your educational journey. We are committed to making sure that all students of color who come to Chabot feel supported and nurtured and do well.

We honor and respect cultural diversity and go the extra mile to ensure a comfortable and friendly environment that makes our campus feel like home. We are here to ensure that support and guidance are always available as our ultimate goal is to develop the leaders of tomorrow.

Chabot has a wonderful campus community with high student-faculty engagement. It is a place where you are able to make close friends, study, learn and grow. We invite you to “officially” become part of the Chabot family and build essential skills, and social and career networks before you graduate into the workforce and/or transfer to a four-year college or university.

Here are some of Dr. Wilson's Quick Tips for Success at Chabot:

- Get to know your instructors and never be afraid to ask for help. This is the best way to learn and get ahead.*
- Be sure to complete your assessment, online orientation and Student Educational Plan (SEP) to receive priority registration. (Get classes before they close!)*
- Use campus resources: Special Programs & Services, Counseling, Financial Aid, Tutoring, Library, Student Life etc... We have a long list!*
- Make one new friend each day; instructors, staff and administrators can be your friends too. Just say, “Hi my name is.....and you’re on your way with a whole new network.*
- I hope to get to know you in the coming year and look forward to supporting your academic and personal success at Chabot College!*

Dr. Jeanne Wilson
Dean of Special Programs & Services

Chabot College at a Glance

Chabot College serves a diverse population of 13,500 students in five major ethnic groups. Between 50 and 90 percent of each ethnic group are first generation college students. With the majority of each ethnic group also starting community college at the Basic Skills level in both English and Math, our students need substantial guidance and support to navigate through college to successful degree and transfer outcomes.

Fall 2013 - Chabot College Office of Institutional Research

Student Support (Re)defined

Student Support (Re)defined aimed to understand how community colleges can feasibly deliver support both inside and outside the classroom to improve success for all students. We asked nearly 900 students from 13 California community colleges what they think supports their educational success—paying special attention to the factors African Americans and Latinos cited as important to their achievement.

Six Success Factors: Through Student Support (Re)defined, the RP Group reviewed leading studies on effective support practices and interviewed both practitioners and researchers to identify “six success factors” that contribute to students’ achievement:

- Directed: Students have a goal and know how to achieve it
- Focused: Students stay on track—keeping their eyes on the prize
- Nurtured: Students feel somebody wants and helps them to succeed
- Engaged: Students actively participate in class and extracurricular activities
- Connected: Students feel like they are part of the college community
- Valued: Students’ skills, talents, abilities and experiences are recognized; they have opportunities to contribute on campus and feel their contributions are appreciated

The RP Group conducted Student Support (Re)defined with support from The Kresge Foundation (2011-2014) and participated as a key partner in Completion by Design (2011-2013), an ongoing initiative of the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.

BLACK STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT & SUCCESS PROGRAMS

The Daraja Program is a learning community designed to promote transfer and to increase academic and personal success. This program, based at the Chabot College Hayward, California campus, addresses students' needs through academic support services and a curriculum focused on African-American literature, history, and issues facing the African-American community. Daraja is for students who are serious about getting a good education, willing to work hard, and want to study the topics Daraja covers. Daraja students persist longer in college with better grades and transfer to four-year colleges and universities at a higher rate.

Laurelle Price
Major: English/Literature

Daraja is a life changing program. Because of Daraja, I'm more social than I previously was and I know more people in my classes. I spend more time on campus because the Daraja atmosphere is so addictive. Daraja has also gotten me involved in more activities and groups on campus. Once you're a Daraja member, you're always a Daraja member!

Tommy Reed
Daraja Counselor
Get plugged in! Align yourself with a program (like Daraja), a club, or learning community. The more you get involved the better your experience will be.

Striving Black Brothers Coalition

In 2006 African American males were the lowest performing and retaining community at Chabot College.

To combat the systemic problem, Art Barboza founded the Striving Black Brothers Coalition. The coalition exists to address the most persistent obstacles in this community. It's voluntary membership is comprised of African American men who possess a burning desire and vision for success.

SBBC's family-oriented philosophy recognizes members as whole persons, and empowers them to overcome personal daily obstacles. Through striving relentlessly to attain dreams and goals together, brothers construct a mindset of self determination used in college and far beyond.

Tony Williams
Major: Psychology/Counseling

The group has helped me learn how to navigate through the college system and has encouraged me to become a better advocate for myself. The Striving Black Brothers Coalition is here to assist and transform each member for the better.

Alan Roberson
Major: English and Social Science

I joined the Striving Black Brothers Coalition hoping to build a strong community amongst African American Chabot College students. I have built relationships with individuals that are specialists in my fields of interests. The connections I have created can be used to better my future and get me where I want to be in life. The Striving Black Brothers Coalition has put me in the position to take advantage of the resources I need to succeed.

P U E N T E

The mission of the Puente Project is not only to increase the number of educationally underserved and under-represented students who enroll and earn degrees in four-year colleges and universities, but to also increase the number of those who return to the community as leaders and mentors in service of succeeding generations. Puente is open to ALL interested students.

Puente is an academic, counseling and mentoring program supporting students as they build the skills necessary for success in both academic and career goals while at Chabot College. Students in Puente work closely with their counselor, English instructor and mentor to prepare for transfer to four-year colleges and universities.

Melissa Perez
Major: Mathematics

*Puente has not only provided support to improve my English skills as a reader and a writer, but has welcomed me to an entire new community. A community in which we learn to help ourselves and others. We've become one big Chabot Puente Familia that provides each other with motivation and support.

Claudia Hernandez
Major: Psychology/ Kinesiology

I found it very resourceful being in the Puente Program as a new student at Chabot College. It's a great guidance as to what to expect, how to receive help and where to find the help here on campus.*

Latin@s With Purpose (LWP)

Latin@s with Purpose is a club based organization created to influence the growth and betterment of our Latino communities by equipping young Latin@s with lasting tools, support and encouragement needed for all of life's unexpected detours. We advocate for young latin@s and their families in our community and create pathways for personal success. We attempt to address the challenges of many latinos and reduce some issues that causes a large majority to drop out from schools and to head down a path of hardships.

LWP President 2014/15: Alfredo Figueroa
Major: Business Administration

This group was started so students can help each other and the generations that follow. Latinos face many obstacles that prevent them from being successful in school. I joined this group because I was, and still am, eager to make a powerful impact in our community. This group helped me academically because it surrounded me with like-minded people.
