Welcome to Chabot College! The actor Tom Hanks, who was celebrated by President Obama with a Kennedy Center Award in the Arts, graduated from Chabot College. He recently wrote a guest editorial for the New York Times titled I owe it all to Community College, by which he meant, specifically, Chabot College.

We have 14,000 future Tom Hanks here at Chabot. And every one of you has the unparallelled opportunity to sit in a classroom with other aspiring students and to be taught by college professors who have masters and doctorates from some of America’s premier universities, and who are teaching at Chabot because they are intellectually and morally committed to the mission of the community college.

Here at Chabot, you will find classrooms where critical thinking and critical writing and articulation are nurtured. You will read works of great authors and be encouraged to analyze them by expert and deeply committed faculty who encourage your personal development and the achievement of your goals. You will find superb career technical programs that enable you to pursue professional advancements and job training, as well as college transfer pathways that support you in completing a degree through university transfer if that is your dream. Our student support programs are justifiably celebrated statewide for their effectiveness in offering you support to meet your needs as you progress through your studies.

We offer miracles here at Chabot College. It is my honor and pleasure to welcome you to this superb learning community.

Chabot College President
Welcome to Chabot!

Welcome to Chabot College! As the Dean of Special Programs & Services I believe you will discover that Chabot College is the place for you! We are so excited that you have chosen our campus as a partner in your educational journey. We are committed to making sure that all students of color who come to Chabot feel supported and nurtured and do well.

We honor and respect cultural diversity and go the extra mile to ensure a comfortable and friendly environment that makes our campus feel like home. We are here to ensure that support and guidance are always available as our ultimate goal is to develop the leaders of tomorrow.

Chabot has a wonderful campus community with high student-faculty engagement. It is a place where you are able to make close friends, study, learn and grow. We invite you to “officially” become part of the Chabot family and build essential skills, and social and career networks before you graduate into the workforce and/or transfer to a four-year college or university.

Here are some of Dr. Wilson’s Quick Tips for Success at Chabot:

- Get to know your instructors and never be afraid to ask for help. This is the best way to learn and get ahead.

- Be sure to complete your assessment, online orientation and Student Educational Plan (SEP) to receive priority registration. (Get classes before they close!)

- Use campus resources: Special Programs & Services, Counseling, Financial Aid, Tutoring, Library, Student Life etc…We have a long list!

- Make one new friend each day; instructors, staff and administrators can be your friends too. Just say, “Hi my name is…..and you’re on your way with a whole new network.

- I hope to get to know you in the coming year and look forward to supporting your academic and personal success at Chabot College!

Chabot College serves a diverse population of 13,500 students in five major ethnic groups. Between 50 and 90 percent of each ethnic group are first generation college students. With the majority of each ethnic group also starting community college at the Basic Skills level in both English and Math, our students need substantial guidance and support to navigate through college to successful degree and transfer outcomes.

Student Support (Re)defined

Six Success Factors: Through Student Support (Re)defined, the RP Group reviewed leading studies on effective support practices and interviewed both practitioners and researchers to identify “six success factors” that contribute to students’ achievement:

- Directed: Students have a goal and know how to achieve it
- Focused: Students stay on track—keeping their eyes on the prize
- Nurtured: Students feel somebody wants and helps them to succeed
- Engaged: Students actively participate in class and extracurricular activities
- Connected: Students feel like they are part of the college community
- Valued: Students’ skills, talents, abilities and experiences are recognized; they have opportunities to contribute on campus and feel their contributions are appreciated

The RP Group conducted Student Support (Re)defined with support from The Kresge Foundation (2011-2014) and participated as a key partner in Competition by Design (2011-2015), an inquiry initiative of the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation.
The Daraja Program is a learning community designed to promote transfer and to increase academic and personal success. This program, based at the Chabot College Hayward, California campus, addresses students’ needs through academic support services and a curriculum focused on African-American literature, history, and issues facing the African-American community. Daraja is for students who are serious about getting a good education, willing to work hard, and want to study the topics Daraja covers. Daraja students persist longer in college with better grades and transfer to four-year colleges and universities at a higher rate.

In 2006 African American males were the lowest performing and retaining community at Chabot College. To combat the systemic problem, Art Barboza founded the Striving Black Brothers Coalition. The coalition exists to address the most persistent obstacles in this community. It's voluntary membership is comprised of African American men who possess a burning desire and vision for success.

SBBC's family-oriented philosophy recognizes members as whole persons, and empowers them to overcome personal daily obstacles. Through striving relentlessly to attain dreams and goals together, brothers construct a mindset of self determination used in college and far beyond.

I joined the Striving Black Brothers Coalition hoping to build a strong community amongst African American Chabot College students. I have built relationships with individuals that are specialists in my fields of interests. The connections I have created can be used to better my future and get me where I want to be in life. The Striving Black Brothers Coalition has put me in the position to take advantage of the resources I need to succeed.

The group has helped me learn how to navigate through the college system and has encouraged me to become a better advocate for myself. The Striving Black Brothers Coalition is here to assist and transform each member for the better.

Latin@s With Purpose (LWP)

Latin@s with Purpose is a club based organization created to influence the growth and betterment of our Latino communities by equipping young Latin@s with lasting tools, support and encouragement needed for all of life’s unexpected detours. We advocate for young latin@s and their families in our community and create pathways for personal success. We attempt to address the challenges of many latinos and reduce some issues that causes a large majority to drop out from schools and to head down a path of hardships.

LWP President 2014/15: Alfredo Figueroa
Major: Business Administration

This group was started so students can help each other and the generations that follow. Latinos face many obstacles that prevent them from being successful in school. I joined this group because I was, and still am, eager to make a powerful impact in our community. This group helped me academically because it surrounded me with like-minded people.

Go to Class & Do your Homework... If you make school your priority it won't be hard, just do the work that you have to do and it will pay off in the end. Si Se Puede!
Take audio recordings of lectures if you can. Check with your professors first to make sure they're OK with it.

Sitting in a classroom is not the only important part of the college experience. The relationships built and networking are also important in developing your social skills.

Always ask for help when you need it! Don’t be afraid to ask.

Pick classes with a purpose. See a counselor but don’t rely just on what they tell you. Do some research about the major you’re interested in before you see a counselor. Look up the schools you want to go to and see what classes are required and what is offered at Chabot. BE PROACTIVE.

No one knows your limits better than you. Don’t try and do what others are doing. Do things at your pace because everyone’s situation is different.

SYSP (SUMMER YOUTH SPORTS PROGRAM)
Building 700, Room 767B   209-909-9244

SYSP has provided disadvantaged youth an opportunity to participate in a summer program offering sports and other educational activities. The SYSP program was in danger of being cut due to Federal budget constraints, but thanks to the University of Phoenix, TRIO program, ETS program, and grants from Career Technical Education, we continue our tradition of providing a quality summer youth sports program.
