Public Hearing

Discussion

Item: 6.1 20 Minutes

Subject: Alameda County Sheriff’s Academy (Contact Lead)

BACKGROUND:

Professors Fischer and Gallucci reached out to the Student Senate with concerns regarding the proposed relocation of the Alameda County Sheriff’s Academy from Las Positas College to Chabot College and specifically to the Chabot Social Sciences Division. The intention is to discuss the potential impact of such a program between all students, staff, and faculty.

The Student Senate has always followed a policy of providing an open forum for discussion of important issues on campus. To that end we are inviting other interested speakers to ensure a fair and complete hearing from all viewpoints.

Recommended Action:

Discussion.
Concerns to be shared with Students, Staff, Deans & Divisions regarding proposed ADMJ program

We are concerned for several reasons with the relocation of the Alameda County Sheriff’s Academy from Las Positas College to Chabot College and specifically to the Chabot Social Sciences Division.

First and foremost, we feel there has been a lack of transparency with regard to this relocation as it relates to the entire campus. We need a higher level of transparency moving forward regarding the decision-making process to bring this academy to Chabot, and all of the potential implications of this change. We understand that this move has been in discussion for over 14 months, yet faculty in the Social Sciences were only made aware of this plan in the Fall 2018 semester. Only two meetings have been held for faculty to attend, at which no formal decisions were made or agreed upon. Furthermore, most members of the overall campus community are completely unaware of these plans and have not had an opportunity to offer their feedback. We strongly believe the campus needs to discuss this in an open venue that includes students, staff, and faculty beyond the Social Sciences Division. We believe that these discussions should inform decision-making on this topic. We know that the Chabot community has made a strong and well-publicized statement on the role of law enforcement on our campus in recent years, and we would like to continue in this tradition.

Secondly, Curriculum Standards explicitly state that all credit and noncredit curriculum must be approved by the college curriculum committee. Joining the Social Sciences Division (and not a career technical division) could have offered the opportunity for a Chabot College sheriff’s training program to incorporate additional curriculum for the certificate/degree on issues surrounding social science-based inquiries of policing (to supplement the standardized, state-regulated sheriff’s training). We have been told by both ADMJ faculty and representatives of the Sheriff’s Academy that this is not possible.

We also understand there is groundbreaking work, happening in the field of ADMJ and want to be assured that this distinct and new curriculum centered on issues of social justice and racial violence is included and that faculty in the program are appropriately trained in these areas. We believe that if this is not the case, and this is a sheriff’s academy program with the exact same curriculum as existed in the LPC sheriff’s program

(a “cop shop” using the terminology of Administration of Justice faculty), it should not be housed in the Social Sciences. It should be instead housed in the division that public safety career technology programs (i.e. the fire academy) is housed.

We see this as a lost opportunity. Law enforcement officers need to receive high caliber education in order to better serve the communities they patrol. Administration of Justice and Criminal Justice departments in colleges and universities around the Bay Area and the nation offer critical, empirical, and theory-driven analysis of the methods and practice of policing. These departments bring issues like economics, ethnic studies, psychology, and public administration to bear on the theories and practice of policing. Bringing Alameda County Sheriff’s Academy into the Social Sciences Division could be an opportunity to create a partnership that brings critical research and scholarship in criminal justice to bear upon the standardized sheriff’s academy curriculum. Instead, we have received the clear message that this is not the case. For these reasons, we oppose the Alameda County Sheriff’s Academy being housed in the Social Sciences.

Sincerely,

Juan Pablo Mercado, History

Subject: Early Decision Registration Day

BACKGROUND:
The Early Decision Program is designed to support seniors in our area high schools with their transition to Chabot College. The program cumulates with the Early Decision Registration Day. This year the event is on Sat. April 27th, 2019. We expected approximately 400 new students and 50-60 parents/guardians/friends. The goal is to support our new students with registration and create a welcoming and fun atmosphere to get them and their family excited about Chabot College.

Last year, General Counseling and SSCC worked together and organized a fun event for our incoming students. General Counseling ensure students felt support and confident in their first semester schedule and SSCC helped by providing continental breakfast, brunch, music and tabling for student clubs. It was a great collaboration and we hope to build on it this year.

Recommended Action:

Approve request of $7,350.00 for Coffee/Tea and pastry station and Brunch food.
