Home Health Instructor
Spanish/English
Part-Time

Position Summary: Instructors teach 17 weeks of theory and practical skills needed to care for individuals in the home environment. The curriculum, tests, and materials are provided. Experience teaching home-health care to culturally and linguistically diverse students and those in need of remediation. Bilingual Spanish-English required.

Required Qualifications:
- Prior teaching experience in home health, health care delivery or biology.
- Bilingual and fluent Spanish-English with ability to instruct in health occupations in both languages.
- First Aid/CPR certificate or obtain certificate within first 90 days of hire.
- Familiarity with Home Health Aide (HHA) certification, Certified Nurse Assistant (CNA) or In Home Supportive Services (IHSS) training.
- Sensitivity to and understanding of the diverse academic, socio-economic, cultural, disability, and ethnic backgrounds of adult learners.
- Job experience within health industry.
- CA driver’s license and acceptable driving record.
- Ability and willingness to travel to instruct classes.
- Ability to work evenings and weekends.

Duties and Responsibilities
- Teach curriculum in an environment which facilitates student learning and achievement.
- Utilize evidence-based teaching and learning strategies for instruction, i.e., provide explicit instruction, guided practice, skill reiteration, independently and collaboratively create unit/lesson plans and related assessments, select and develop instructional materials that align with career technical success standards.
- Test students’ knowledge of terminology, basic concepts, and cluster principals to ascertain completion readiness.
- Counsel and motivate students regarding behavior, training, personal and/or study habits and problems. Coordinate with class coordinators and other staff as necessary to resolve issues affecting student training.
- Maintain classroom environment (behavior and surroundings) conducive to learning.
- Take student attendance and submit in a timely manner on a daily basis and maintain computerized records of student progress, attendance, and more.
- Control use of equipment and recommend purchases.
- Participate in student disciplinary program(s) as requested.
- Cultivate and maintain a climate free of harassment, intimidation, and disrespect to provide a safe place for instructors, staff and students to work and learn.
- Clearly communicate and consistently model appropriate employability skills including personal responsibility.

Salary and Benefits: Part time with competitive salary, no benefits.

To Apply: Email cover letter and resume as WORD documents to jobs@cltcec.org